“ Saying goodbye is always hard. I like to think that it isn't goodbye, but really just 'until we meet again'. Angel meant the world to so many of us. I met her in the oddest of circumstances, never knowing that years later she would be one of my best friends in the world. I firmly believe some souls are just too beautiful & fragile for this harsh world, and hers was one of those. She will forever be greatly missed and loved. My heart & prayers go out to her family.

“ Angel will always be missed and loved. She was and will always be a huge impact in many people's lives. She loved this little boy so very much. I took these around January/early February of this year. It was always wonderful to spend time with these two. Tomorrow, as has this whole week, will be extremely hard. My thoughts and prayers are with her family.
