“ My name is Kay Arrington-Howard. I was friends with Darah. I remember spending nights at Darah's house. She was such a sweet girl. We attended St. Aloysius school. I am so sorry for your loss. I lived on Highland road, the Materistes raised my brother, Rickey and me. I pray God will give you and your loved ones comfort. I have thought about Darah through the years many, many times and wondered what became of her. I am so sorry to see where she is now. I just bet God's arms are around her now.

“ It's not often that I read the obituary of someone with my last name. Though we may not have been close kin, there is some connection somewhere. I pray that God holds Darah in the palm of His hand and gives her eternal rest and may He bless all of Darah's family and friends always and in all ways.
