“Esther you will always be my very best friend, always remaining within in my heart. Your contagious laughter, heart warming smile, caring and kind ways take me back to the "good old days" when we were inseparable. As life took us separate directions memories never faded of the joy in our lives. I would never have imagined our parting would be like this.

This is taken from Women of the Bible, A One-Year Devotional Study of Women in Scripture by Ann Spangler & Jean E. Syswerda to help approach the story of salvation with fresh eyes. ESTER, her name may have derived from "Ishtar," The Babylonian Goddess of Love or from the Persian Word for "Star," Her Hebrew Name, "Hadassah," Means "Myrtle." Her character: An orphan in a foreign land, she displayed great courage in the midst of a crisis. Prior to risking her life for her people, she humbled herself by fasting, and then put her considerable beauty, social grace and wisdom in the service of God's plan. Her sorrow: To learn that her husband, the king, had unwittingly placed her life and that of her people in jeopardy. Her joy: To watch mourning turn to celebration once the Jews enjoyed relief from their enemies. Esther 1-10. God showed that he was still with his people, delivering and protecting them in surprising ways. Earthly powers are still at work for a heavenly power, far greater in scope, at work to save and preserve. Our hearts go out to Johnny, their two sons, all relatives and loved ones.
