“ I remember meeting Jamie at the Hardin's old salon in Park Hills at the side of the movie theater.. She was then, married to Brandon, and they were expecting Devin, the first grandchild, of Joann and Wayne.. The love of the whole family was in the air.. And Wayne and Joann just thrilled about Devin's arrival.. She was such a sweet girl.. Who was always carrying a smile no matter what was headed her way.. And as I look at her FB page I see such a joyous life she continued to live..With all her children and her recent marriage.. Her life was taken too short... And I am thinking each day about her beautiful children and their tremendous loss..And of her new husband who only got 1 year of her life together in marriage.. May she rest in peace today.. Knowing she is surrounded by love.. And may god help give her children and husband strength each day to remember the precious times they got to cherish with her while she was here.. And always remmember that she remains in their hearts forever.. God Bless.. Patti Whitaker xxoo

“ I worked with you for a short time in the shop at Caledonia. I always giggle when I think of the time that we were cleaning the tanning bed and had laid the plexi glass against the shampoo bowls. You forgot that it was there and walked into it and started to fall over it. Being short like me, it hit you at the waist and you were just hanging over it! You were just hanging there upside down looking at me through the glass. I couldn't stop laughing. You will be missed young lady. Hugs to Turner and your mom and kids.
