Cher, I am happy that I got to see you, Debbie and Randy a few weeks ago. Your love for your brother is obviously very great. I think that God may have prevented you from being at the funeral because it would have been so hard on you. I'm sure Randy understands. Your family, God and all your cousins love you. It helps to keep busy during times like these.

“ I remember when the only care we had in life was waiting for the recess bell to ring so we could run and play at the West End School. We made a lot of memories together. Goodbye my old friend, I will see you on the other side where we will run together once again.
